

Oberoi Amarvilas, Agra, India

What Indian honeymoon is complete without paying homage to the Taj Mahal? To get up close in style, book yourself into the Oberoi Amarvilas, where every one of its opulent rooms and suites has a view of this ultimate monument to love. Built in the same Mungal style as its elegant neighbour, interiors are equally palatial with marble bathrooms, teak floors and hand-knotted carpets. Getting up to see the Taj shimmer at dawn isn't so painful when you're only a golf buggy ride away (although bear in mind when booking that the Taj is closed to visitors on Fridays). Afterwards, head to the spa for a couple's Balinese massage, then have a candlelit dinner on your private balcony.

WOW FACTOR Watch the sun set on the Taj from the bathtub of the Bollywood-tastic Kohinoor Suite.

Cavas Wine Lodge, Mendoza, Argentina

At Cavas, an award-winning Relais & Châteaux estate at the foot of the Andes, it's all about the vino – enjoy horse-riding through vineyards to neighbouring Viña Cobos for a wine tasting before a three-course lunch with wine pairings at Lamadrid. Just half an hour outside Mendoza, Cavas is made up of 14 lodges, a colonial-style restaurant, wine cellar and spa. Set in 35 acres of vineyards, the lodges have private plunge pools and roof terraces with open fires. Dinner is served either in the restaurant, wine cellar or on your terrace: few things are more romantic than sipping a glass of malbec as the sun sets over the Andes. The food is local, seasonal and organic, and there are no set times for meals. The Cavas wine cellar is stocked with more than 2,000 bottles, some of which are produced on the estate and served exclusively for guests.

WOW FACTOR Book a couple's Wine Therapy spa treatment – be exfoliated with grape seeds and essential oils, bath in red wine, and enjoy a massage with grape-seed oil.
